Traffic Hazards At Christmas

Richmond, Va.- Noting that 98 Virginia traffic deaths occurred during the month of December last year, Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police and Chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, today issued a warning on the added dangers of the month.

"Darkness and drinking," he said, "are the predominant factors. December brings the shortest days of the year and about one-half our traffic fatalities happen in darkness although only one-third of the total traffic moves then. Colder weather and the holiday season, unfortunately, seem to tempt more people to mix alcohol and gasoline. The drinking pedestrian also seems to increase in numbers."

Col. Woodson noted also that Christmas Eve saw 9 deaths and 10 more following on Christmas Day. "If the true facts were known I am sure many of these could be traced to the custom of drinking and visiting during the two days."

"Another adverse factor," he continued, "presents itself in the habit of shoppers whose minds are preoccupied with seasonal thoughts and those of common-sense safety. They walk inattentively, window-shop from automobiles and travel to and from the city in heavy traffic."

When asked the best preventive measures, Col Woodson replied that strict observance of the General Rule could come very close to eliminating traffic crashes entirely. He observed that this is the most appropriate time of the year for drivers and walkers and drivers to give it their deepest consideration.

Religion is called an antidote for Communism.

A. H. S. Wins

At the local high school gym last Friday night, the Blue Hornets of Appomattox High were paced by Robert Carter with 22 points to outscore a scrappy Madison Heights H. S. team, 53 to 40. Carter was followed in the scoring by Garland Doss and Dick Holderman.

The end of the first quarter found Appomattox leading 14 to 7, and at the end of the half 32 to 20. Then Madison Heights came back in the 3rd period with a burst of points to bring the score to Appomattox 36, Madison 30. Through Carter's and Doss' control of the rebounds and good team work, the Blue Hornets came out on the top end of a thrilling game.

This was the first league game of the season.

Franklin Doss with 18 points, and Evelyn Ferguson with 16 points, led the Appomattox girls to a 39-29 victory over Madison Heights girls.

NEW POSTAL RULING

on messages in packages

A letter or message can now be mailed inside a package or publication for the first time in United States postal history, Postmaster General Summerfield said today in announcing a new "combination" mail service.

Effective Nov. 28, 1955, all the mailer needs to do is indicate the presence of the letter or message inside the package and pay the appropriate postage on it plus postage for the package itself.

"The familiar phrase, 'we are sending under separate cover,' can now join other nostalgic reminders of by-gone days," Mr. Summefield stated. "The mailing of two classes of mail together has been permissable for some time through the use of separate but attached envelopes and containers, and will continue to be available.

"The new 'Combination' mail service, however, meets a genuine need not satisfactorily met by other make-shift arrangements and confusing technical procedures. It is one more improvement to add to the list of more than seventy procedural changes that the present postal management has adopted for the convenience of postal mailers and patrons, and for the betterment of the postal service."

Under the new 'Combination' mail service, letters or other single pieces of either First or Third-Class mail may be placed inside Fourth-Class parcels or inside copies of publications mailed under Second-Class mail entry. Letters or other single pieces of First-Class mail may also be placed inside Third - Class packages.

The postage for each letter, and for each single enclosure at the appropriate First or single - piece Third-Class rate must be affixed to the outside of the parcel.

A statement reading "First-Class Mail Enclosed" must be placed on each parcel below the postage and above the address. This endorsement may be hand-stamped, handwritten, typewritten, printed, or put on by any other method.

The enclosures inside the package should preferably be placed on top of the other items in the package.

Among the postal patrons needing to send two classes of mail together, Mr. Summerfield cited business firms sending substitute products and wanting to explain why that was done; publications sending gift certificates naming the donor with first copies of their publications to new subscribers; manufacturers sending operational, maintenance, and repair instructions with household appliances; and companies sending sales letters with samples of merchandise.

This new service is on a 60-day trial basis. Comments are invited.
